Two Men Die; Third of General's Assassins Is Captured.

ITALO-FRENCH CLASH FEARED BY ENGLAND'

Rome Backing Bulgaria and Paris Jugoslavs; Sofia Sees Conciliation.

Belgrade, Jugoslavia, Oct. 9 (A.P.)—Two of the assassins of Brig. Gen. Michael Kovachevitch were shot dead this evening by gendarmes near Radovishta. Another of his assailants was captured.

The killing of Gen. Kovachevitch a few days ago at Istip was attributed to Macedonians, and Jugoslavia sent a strong note to Bulgaria demanding guarantees against crimes alleged to have been committed by Macedonian comitadjis (irregulars).

It is expected that Jugoslavia will be appealed to some extent by the death of the assassins of their popular general.

Serious, British Hold.

(Special Cable Dispatches.)

London, Oct. 9 (A.P.)—The British government regards the situation between Serbia and Bulgaria as quite serious on account of the fact that Italy is supposed to be backing Bulgaria and France backing Serbia.

It was reported in London tonight that the British chancellor of the exchequer, Winston Churchill, has gone to Italy to discuss the question with Premier Mussolini, but there is no confirmation of this rumor.

Bulgarian View Hopeful.

Sofia, Oct. 9—Despite strong language condemning Jugoslavia in the Bulgarian press, an official communication given out here late last night by Foreign Minister Bouroff declares, "I had an interview with the Jugoslavian minister, M. Nechitch, in amicable tone, which dealt with the Macedonian revolutionary organization. M. Nechitch informed the Bulgarian government of recent events in Jugoslavia and regarding the measures to be taken there for suppression, he emphasized that owing to the activities of the Bulgarian comitadjis (irregulars) the relations between Jugoslavia and Bulgaria are endangered."

However, the Bulgarian minister said he hoped that both governments would be able to work together to overcome the difficulties so that the friendly relations would not be broken.

Premier Escapes Overthrow.

London, Oct. 9 (A.P.)—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Athens says it is reported from Sofia that Macedonian and Bulgarian committees attempted to overthrow Premier Laptcheff in favor of Tsankoff.

Premier Laptcheff formerly was a member of the Democratic party, seceding after 1923 and forming the Democratic entente, which supported the regime of Tsankoff, whom he succeeded in 1925. In the national elections held in May this year, the governmental parties gained 189 deputies against a total of 84 for the opposition. The Sgovor party, that of Premier Laptcheff, obtained 171 seats, smaller parties voting with the government making up the balance.

Berlin Communists Kill Royalist in Raid

(Special Cable Dispatch.)

Berlin, Oct. 9—Eight hundred and fifty Berlin communists in full war paint—the red front fighters—with their uniforms, brass bands and red flags flying, made an automobile raid on Lichtenberg, on the Berlin-Hamburg line, where monarchists "steel helmets" men were dancing and drinking beer.

The communists stormed the hall where the steel helmets held sway, killed one, severely wounded twelve and wrecked the ballroom. Police drove out the reds after a stiff fight. Many were wounded on both sides.

$300,000 Fire Covers Landing of Liquor

Revere, Mass., Oct. 9 (A.P.)—A bootlegger's landing party is blamed by police for a fire which destroyed a large section of the amusement park section of Revere Beach today. The damage was estimated at $300,000.

Residents of the Beachmont district, at the other end of the city, reported that a large cargo of liquor was being landed there at the time the fire was discovered. Police believe the fire was set to distract attention.

For nearly 10 hours 100 firemen, from seven cities, fought the flames.

Bowl of Goldfish Sets Fire to House

Spokane, Wash., Oct. 9 (A.P.)—A bowl of gold fish set fire to a house here today.

Refuting the theory that "there is nothing new under the sun," Old Sol this afternoon sent his hottest rays shimmering through a gold fish bowl at the home of E. C. Barrett and set a curtain afire. As it blazed up Mrs. Barrett called the fire department.

The gold fish bowl acted as a lens, focusing the sun's rays to a single point of impact. The fish were not harmed.

New York, Oct. 9—Fannie Brice, famous comedienne, divorced Nicky Arnstein, declaring, even as she received the divorce, that she still loved him. That was about a month ago. Has the intervening time served to confirm the feeling that she really wanted to be free, or has it brought regrets? So often we want what we don't have, and when we get it we begin to wonder if we really wanted it after all. Was it so with Fannie Brice's divorce? There were only one way of knowing—see Fannie Brice.

I did. And I discovered the real reason for the divorce.

It was not entirely that Fannie's rejuvenated and straightened nose gave Nicky an inferiority complex, and it

LILLIENDAHL CASE DEFENDANTS TO ASK BAIL BE SET TODAY

Doctor's Widow to Meet Beach for First Time Since the Killing.

HYMN SUNG IN JAIL MOVES HER TO WEEP

Alleged Admirer Pays Little Attention to Services and Reads Papers.

Mays Landing, N. J., Oct. 9 (A.P.)—Application for the release on bail of Mrs. Margaret Lillendahl and Willis Beach, South Vineland poultry raiser, under indictment for the murder of the woman's 72-year-old husband, Dr. William Lillendahl, is to be made by their respective attorneys when the prisoners are arraigned tomorrow before Chief Justice Luther A. Campbell, of the State Supreme Court.

The 42-year-old widow and her alleged admirer have been in the county jail here since their indictment last Thursday night, occupying cells on different tiers, they will face each other when they are arraigned tomorrow for the first time since Dr. Lillendahl was slain on a lonely road near Hammonton on September 15. The widow told police her husband had been shot to death by two negroes, who jumped on their automobile for the purpose of robbery.

Counsel for the defendants said tonight they would put up a stiff legal battle for their release and the prosecution promised equally as strong a fight to prevent it.

Call Case Strong.

"We have one of the strongest circumstantial cases ever brought into the courts of South Jersey," S. Cameron Hinckle, assistant prosecutor of Atlantic County, asserted. "I am sure of getting convictions. If I had not been I would never have asked for indictments. For this reason I will oppose any move which the defense might make to have the prisoners released on bail."

Charles M. Phillips, counsel for Mrs. Lillendahl, said he felt certain she would be admitted to bail.

"We will apply for bail," he said, "and are prepared to put up any reasonable sum which may be required. In the event that bail is denied, I will move to have the time of the trial set as soon as is consistent with the case."

Mr. Phillips added that Edison Hedges, of Atlantic City, attorney for Beach, also would ask that bail be fixed for his client.

Mrs. Lillendahl appeared somewhat restless in her cell today. She paced back and forth in the tiny room for several hours, interrupting the slow, steady walk only long enough to hear the religious services held in the main corridor of the prison this afternoon.

Confident in God.

Asked for her views of the movement of events, she said:

"I have placed all my confidence in God, and am sure that he will see that justice is done me."

PARIS POLICE QUELL SACCO PARADE RIOTS

Plaster Death Masks Exhibit Starts Street Fights With Manifestants.

Paris, Oct. 8 (A.P.)—White plaster death masks of Sacco and Vanzetti, executed in Massachusetts, were the objects of homage by Socialist and Communist sympathizers in a memorial ceremony this afternoon. The police came into frequent conflict with the manifestants, and there were many sore heads and bruised bodies. It was only when the Paris police long have been accustomed to with the extremists, and the clashes were described as "slight incidents."

Many thousands marched past the embassy, beside which stood a banner inscribed: "Without the death penalty we would not mourn Sacco and Vanzetti." Each contingent carried banners draped with crepe, which were dipped as they passed the masks.

SIMPLER CONSULAR PROCEDURE SOUGHT BY PAN-AMERICANS

Conference, Meeting Today, to Plan for Facilitating International Trade.

DELEGATES TO ATTEND FROM 21 REPUBLICS

Kellogg to Welcome Representatives in Morning; Olaya to Speak.

Encouragement of commerce between American republics through simplification and greater uniformity in consular procedure is the objective of delegates from 21 republics of North, South and Central America and the West Indies, meeting in conference today in the Pan-American Union.

Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg will welcome the delegates at the morning session which opens at 10 o'clock. Senor Dr. Don Enrique Olaya, Minister of Colombia, and vice chairman of the board of governors of the union, also will address the conference before adjournment for luncheon.

The meeting of the Pan-American Commission on Simplification and Standardization of Consular Procedure is the outgrowth of a resolution adopted by the Third Pan-American Commercial Conference, which stated that "Inter-American trade is hampered by the diversity of government consular procedure of the different American countries."

The recommendation of the commission will be transmitted to the various American governments, so that the subject may be considered at the Sixth International Conference of American States, to be held in Havana, Cuba, January 16.

Delegates to the present conference are principally the commercial attaches in the United States or the consuls general of the different American republics.

Dr. L. S. Rusk, director general of the Pan-American Union, last night said the main task confronting the commission is removal of obstacles to inter-American trade due to the complexity of consular procedure. "In the domain of government consular procedure simplification and standardization has lagged far behind the commercial and industrial world," he said.

8 Go to Ellicott City For Permits to Wed

Four couples from this city journeyed to Ellicott City, Md., Saturday and were granted licenses to marry. They were Irene, 21 years old, and Leslie M. Simpson, 20 years old; H. Reicks, 22 years old, and Viola M. Bell, 20 years old; Walter Ruby, 21 years old, and Dorothy Tracy, 18 years old; and Johnsey Bailey, 22 years old, and Minnie Ackerman, 18 years old.

Edgar E. Bishop, who resides at 231 Tennessee Avenue, was the only one of the eight who could be reached last night. He admitted taking out the license, but said he was not married. "Something happened at the last moment to change our plans," he said.

Quota Law Found To Curb Labor Supply

The migration of unskilled labor from Europe to the United States has virtually ceased since the enactment of the quota restriction law, the National Industrial Conference Board of New York City announced yesterday, following a survey.

Approximately 20,000 more unskilled laborers annually return to Europe than migrate here from there, the reports state. Balancing all immigration against emigration, the annual net gain of common and farm labor from all sources, including Europe, has averaged about 25,000 a year for the last three years, and has declined during the past year to approximately 15,000, the report shows. Farm laborers, however, have increased from Mexico and Canada. The report further points out that only a negligible number of immigrant common labor finds its way to the industrial centers.

2 HURT, 2 CARS WRECKED AS POLICE CHASE AUTO

Pursuit Ends as Motorist Plunges Into Side of Bus.

HELD ON HIT-RUN CHARGE

Two injured persons, two overturned and demolished automobiles and several broken bottles last night lay in the wake of an exciting automobile chase by police in the Southeastern area, resulting in a hit-and-run charge.

The chase started at Seventh and M streets northwest and ended at Third and J streets northwest, when Raymond W. Glenn, 30 years old, drove his burned automobile into the side of a Capitol Tract Co. bus.

Police Commissioner Clegg said he discovered a 50-half ounce jar of corn whiskey in the wrecked car. At the Second Precinct station Glenn was charged with transporting and illegal possession of intoxicants, reckless driving, no operator's permit and leaving after collision.

Glenn, who said he came from North Carolina recently, also is charged with having crashed into an automobile operated by Chester W. Davis, 1318 Potomac avenue southeast, at Seventh and E streets northwest. Davis and his injured wife were thrown to the street and injured when their machine overturned. Brazil and several others pursued Glenn until he crashed into the bus. Glenn also was injured.

Negro Camp Meeting Will Start Sunday

A revival and camp meeting, under auspices of the National Ministerial Evangelical Alliance, was announced last night by Dr. Simon P. W. Drew, director Sunday school supervisor Thanksgiving, at a location on W street between Fourth and Fifth streets northwest. Dr. Drew will be assisted by Rev. R. D. Bots, pastor of the Baptist Church, Alexandria, Va., and the Rev. W. T. Palmer, Masonic chaplain, presided.

IMMIGRANT LABORERS RETURNING TO EUROPE

Those Going Back Outnumber Arrivals 3 to 1, Report Reveals.

MANY CANADIANS IN U.S.

New York, Oct. 9 (A.P.)—The tide of industrial labor migration has reversed itself since the enactment of the quota restriction law and since 1924 approximately three times as many common laborers have returned to Europe as have come from there to this country, the National Industrial Conference Board, Inc., said in a report made public today.

Since the enactment of the quota restriction law, the annual net gain of common labor, which stood at 260,000 in 1923, has been reduced to about 25,000 a year in the past three years. Mexico and Canada, and to a smaller degree other nonquota nations, have furnished most of these immigrants, the report shows. Farm laborers, however, have increased from Mexico and Canada. The report further points out that only a negligible number of immigrant common labor finds its way to the industrial centers.

Only a small proportion of the immigration from Mexico and Canada consists of farm labor, the report says, the two countries now being the chief sources of new unskilled industrial labor.

Prosperity Is Seen Bane to Commission

European communists are not hopeful of the successful spread of their doctrine in this country because of the high standards of living conditions among industrial workers, William Knowles Cooper, general secretary of the Washington Y. M. C. A. told members of the Mount Pleasant Congregational Church last night.

Communism flourishes only where poverty and desperation exist, he said. Cooper returned recently from a survey of social, economic, political and religious conditions in England, France, Austria, Switzerland, Czechoslovakia and Germany.

Templar Oath Urged As Guide for Citizens

The Rev. Z. B. Phillips yesterday afternoon at the last Masonic open-air service at Temple Heights urged that the vows of the old Knights Templar be incorporated in the daily lives of the citizens of the United States.

Dr. Phillips gave an outline of the history of the templars and their vows of poverty, chastity and obedience. Approximately 800 persons attended the meeting, including the members of the six commanderies of the District of Columbia, headed by Mark F. Flinley, president of the Commandery and treasurer of the Rockefeller Foundation, she established a school for wayward and destitute girls and dispensed for sick children and mothers.

Characteristic subjects of the evangelical program include: "Wheel Within a Wheel"; "Black Diamond Express to Hell"; and "The Prodigal Son." Dr. Phillips and his co-workers have been arranging for elderly negroes who are especially interested in the revival program, especially for Armistice Day and Thanksgiving.

alleged rebels, entered the town of Tepeji, in the State of Hidalgo, carried a $50,000 roll of the Temple of Solomon, took several stores and fled to the mountains before the arrival of troops.

The Calles government has expended already about 10,000,000 pesos (about $5,000,000) in its efforts to crush the revolution, it was announced tonight.

One week after the attempt of Gen. Arnulfo Gomez and Gen. Francisco Serrano to overthrow the Calles Government by a military revolt, the failure of the rebels to capture the capital, backed by the most rigorous measures of the first, now is a certainty, in the opinion of government officials.

Serrano has been executed and many of the other leading spirits have paid the extreme penalty, but Gomez and his chief adherent Gen. Almada, with forces numbering 20,000, are still in the mountainous Perote region in the State of Vera Cruz. This, say the Federal officials, is the only rebel force in the field. Some think that Gomez and Almada ultimately will reach the sea-coast and attempt to make their way out of the country, leaving their followers to disperse.

Long Warfar Forseen.

On the other hand, there is a possibility that the two rebel leaders, with their men, may continue to prolong their stay in Mexico even for many months, raiding through the wild mountainous country divided into small bands and evading contact with the federal troops. The country where they are is such a jumble of mountains and canyons that those familiar with the region would almost indefinitely any pursuit.

There is still a third possible outcome, for the federales, largely reinforced, are endeavoring to drive the rebels into a concentrated group, so that they can surround and give battle to them.

Gen. Alvarez, chief of the presidential staff, in a statement today said that the situation was without change, and that the federal troops were proceeding with their attempt to come into touch with the Gomez and Almada bands.

Traffic service, although irregular, has been resumed on both the National and the Intercolonial Railway between Mexico City and Vera Cruz, thus contributing to the normalization of the situation.

More Generals in Revolt.

Phoenix, Ariz., Oct. 9 (A.P.)—According to the Arizona Republic, Gen. Pedro Medina, reported killed last Thursday along with Alfonso de la Huerta in a battle with federal troops about 60 miles below the international border, is alive and in the field, against the central government at the head of 800 Yaqui Indians.

The Republican says its information came confidentially from sympathizers with the revolutionary cause of the de la Huerta gang.

According to the same source, the Yaqui chieftains Matus and Mori, with 900 more Indians, have recognized Gen. Medina as their leader and are marching to reinforce him in the neighborhood of Izamal, scene of Alfonso de la Huerta's death.

Three De la Huerta generals who have been in active rebellion since 1923, when they took the field for Adolfo de la Huerta, brother of Gen. Alfonso and former provisional president, are said to have joined Gen. Arturo Gomez and Hector Almada with 2,000 troops in the state of Vera Cruz.

The new rebel generals and their forces are given as Gen. de la Vida, Gen. Gomez, Gen. Almada, Gen. Cusman, 600 men, and Gen. Luis Cusman, with 900 cavalry. Gen. Almada formerly was chief of staff to Gen. Gomez when the latter was commanding general of the Vera Cruz district.

The same informant states that in the state of Mexico Gen. Antonio and Jose Azuahua have revolted at the head of 1,500 infantry, cavalry and a section of artillery. Both men are natives of Toluca, the state of Mexico, and their defection is expected to draw with them many of their townsmen and friends throughout the state.

So Vare's battle appears to be already over and Smith's chances of remaining in the Senate are at least not negligible. The all-important point, however, is that the case, in accordance with the Constitution and not in accordance with political whims, which would virtually undermine representative government. In other words, the theory that senators-elect can be ejected by a majority vote of the Senate is to be relegated to the scrap heap.

New Theory Booked to Go.

The constitutional provision that both houses of Congress are the sole judges of the qualifications of senators-elect is to be interpreted in the usual commonsense way. That is, do they come within the qualifications as to age, residence, etc., set forth in the Constitution? There is to be decided whether or not they are qualified.

And, lastly, the incomprehensible problem of how senators-elect can be ejected on the ground that the Senate is the sole judge of the qualifications of senators-elect, because individuals are admitted to membership. This was the biggest stumbling block of the anti-Vare, anti-Smith campaign. "How can we be the judge of a member's qualifications?" prevent him from becoming a member by denying him the oath of office?" has been one of the most frequent questions.

King Explains Views.

Senator King has set forth his views in a statement made to the Associated Press. He says that the Republicans and Progressives are desirable for securing legislation, but he does not think it feasible to form such a coalition for dealing with the Smith and Vare cases. King, who is a member of the Senate bar association, distinguished from political grounds and outlines the path which most of the Democrats will follow. He said:

"Important constitutional questions are involved in the assertion of the power of the states to exclude a member from the Senate. These questions vitally affect our dual system of government. To deny the right of a State to select its representatives in the sen-

TENEMENT BOMBS LINKED WITH MOVE FOR SUBWAY BLAST

One That Failed to Explode Is Compared With Cylinder Placed in Tunnel.

FIFTH VICTIM IS DEAD; 22 SUFFER INJURIES

Two Young Former Tenants Sought; Were Seen Carrying Boxes Into Building.

New York, Oct. 9 (A.P.)—Another life was added today to the toll of the bombs explosion which rocked a four-story tenement building in West Thirty-fifth street yesterday. It killed four persons outright and injured 22 others.

The latest victim was Mrs. Anna Kallio, 34, whose mother and daughter perished in the blast. She died in Bellevue Hospital after the amputation of one leg.

The full personnel of the bomb squad was assigned to the case today, after the finding of an unexploded bomb in the basement of the tenement building prompted detectives to announce that there was no doubt the tragedy had been the result of the explosive bomb similar to one found intact. The unexploded bomb, which was opened today by Inspector Robert M. Withers, of the department of combustibles, of the fire department, was found to be tightly packed with 6½ pounds of gelatin-nitrate with a fulminate of mercury detonating cap and wire leads to carry the exploding charge. The case of the bomb was a piece of 3-inch black iron pipe, 18 inches long, fitted on each end with a screw cap.

Withers reported that the workmanship of the deadly cylinder and its contents indicated had been made by skilled persons.

Two Young Men Sought.

Detectives were seeking two young men, former tenants of the house, whose actions had attracted the attention of the landlord, Andrew Caviglio, and his neighbors. One man, police said, had been seen carrying packages and boxes in and out of their quarters. No explanation of the contents of the containers ever was learned. Caviglio said,

The unexploded bomb which Withers examined today was said to be most a duplicate of an unexploded bomb found in the Clark Street Tunnel of the Interborough Rapid Transit Subway several weeks ago.

The bombs were of the same dimensions. The one found in the subway had a cylinder of iron and was loaded with a mixture of dynamite and gunpowder. That found in the wrecked tenement was of black iron and contained only dynamite.

After questioning the Mrs. Andrew Caviglio and the landlord, detectives said tonight that they had no idea who had turned an electric light switch in her house unwittingly exploded the bombs. The woman told detectives that the explosion had occurred almost simultaneously with the turning of switch with which she turned on the hall lights in the tenement.

TO DEFEND SELF IN SLAYING

REMUS TO RECEIVE SPEEDY TRIAL, OHIO OFFICIALS DECLARE

Prosecutor Promises Indictment This Week; Will Ask Death Penalty.

FORMER BOOTLEG KING TO PLEAD OWN CASE

Four Women Figure in Downfall of Adventurer and Dramatic Climax.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Oct. 9 (A.P.)—Before the end of another week George Remus, former bootlegger king, whose money-mad dash over life's trials was dramatically climaxed last Thursday by the slaying of his wife, Imogene, may be making his last stand before a bar of justice.

Remus, whose adventurous career has made him intimate with jails and prisons, is again at the crossroads of the courts. One road of ominous aspect has at its far end the electric chair. Another is the endless trail of life imprisonment. While at the third if the court so directs, lies freedom.

The speedy trial asked by Remus will be given, bringing unforeseen difficulties. A grand jury to be impaneled tomorrow will have the case before it probably Tuesday.

Coroner Fred Swing will conduct an inquest into the death of the estranged wife who Remus shot fatally after a brief struggle in a Toledo Eden Park while she was on her way to push divorce proceedings to a conclusion.

An indictment will be presented by County Prosecutor Charles P. Taft, said, about Thursday or Friday. Remus will be arraigned immediately, he said, and a trial date set for next week. The State will ask the death penalty.

Remus has been reticent regarding his defense. His friends say he will plead justifiable homicide but Remus remains silent.

Women Figure in Fate.

Four women have figured prominently in the life of this shrewd adventurer who made millions by violating the national prohibition law on the largest scale since prohibition became law. Of greatest importance is the dead woman whom he loved but now accuses of betraying him to the Federal officers, being unfaithful to him while he was in Atlanta prison, robbing him of all his property and money and seeking to divorce him to marry another.

Remus is also accused of having been taught to hate Great Britain.

Alanson Houghton, American Ambassador to the Court of St. James; James Marshall, 22, who says he is for America first, decided to demonstrate that street car was a threat that most any Wright could withstand in national emergency, the youth decided to prove the soundness of his reasoning. He boarded a northwest side car, clutched the motorman over the head and opened the front door.

Having a theory that running a street car was a threat that most any Wright could withstand in national emergency, the youth decided to prove the soundness of his reasoning. He boarded a northwest side car, clutched the motorman over the head and opened the front door.

"I am perfectly certain that young people in the schools of your great country are not taught to love Britain as they should," said the youth, pronouncing on the Americans. "Indeed, I have been assured by young men with whom I have conversed that they had been taught to hate this country. This must be taken in account in forming our policy."

The bishop said it must be realized that Great Britain and the United States had separate needs—America is self-contained and does not want a fast-hunting empire in the country and wants to keep its own pace. If we were to go to war with Britain, we would be at a disadvantage.

Executive Council Declares Present Government Is Not One of Labor.

EXPLAINS POSITION IN UPHOLDING STRIKES

Relationship Close, It Asserts, Because Workers' Leaders Aided Revolution.

Los Angeles, Calif., Oct. 9 (A.P.)—The executive council of the American Federation of Labor does not consider the Mexican government a trades union regime, it reported today to the convention here.

After a twelve months' investigation of the revolution in the Southern republic the council filed a supplemental report prefaced with a review of Mexico's turbulent history since independence of Spain was gained in 1821.

The voluminous document, which is an answer to charges made on the floor of the last convention that the Mexican government sponsored and supported the labor movement in that country, traces the efforts of labor to organize over a period of a century.

Government and Labor Close.

"The relations between the Mexican labor movement and the Mexican government are very intimate," he report says, "but this is due to a series of natural causes not understood by outsiders, and very frequently not understood by the people of Mexico themselves. These causes may be recapitulated as follows:

"The capital in Mexico is largely foreign owned. Strikes at once involve international complications. As the constitution has made strikes legal, the government is compelled to act in behalf of strikers. To fail to do would not only be a violation of law, but would put the government in the position of favoring foreign interests at the expense of its own nationals. This is an explanation for the impression that the government always is on the side of labor, but it really is on the side of its own people against an outsider."

Revolution Aided by Labor.

"Another factor," the report says, "is of course the fact that the trade union movement is peculiarly suited to toward making the revolution a success, and many of the trade union leaders or their friends are in power and are using their power in government to carry out the requirements of the law. That again tends to give the impression of a close unity between the Mexican gov-

Sage Foundation Declares Government "Coercion" to Be Failure.

STUDIES CANADIAN PLAN

New York, Oct. 9 (A.P.)—Legislation has failed to prevent strikes and lockouts, and conciliation has been found an effective method of governmental intervention in industrial disputes. The Russell Sage Foundation finds in a report on "Postponing Strike."

The report was based on a study of the workings of the industrial disputes investigation act in Canada during the last eighteen years which was made to learn whether a similar act can be applied to labor controversies in the United States.

The Canadian act prohibits declaration of a strike lockout in mines, transportation systems or other public utility industries until a report on the dispute has been made by a board of conciliation and investigation.

The report shows that in 536 disputes handled under the act 490 strikes were declared, and while during the eighteen-year period there were 425 strikes in which the act was ignored. On Canadian railroads, the report says, the act has worked well, but in coal mines, where instability and chronic irregularity of employment prevail, it has failed.

"Just as the policy of conciliation pursued by the Canadian government has won the cooperation of labor in the administration of the industrial disputes act," the report says, "so the policy of coercive pressure, governmental in the United States, has increased the opposition of labor to similar laws. The Canadian experience indicates that governmental bodies can obtain best results in industrial disputes, not by threatening arrest, imprisonment or fines, but by intervening in a sympathetic and conciliatory spirit to find those terms upon which agreement may be reached."

Lebrix, the French aviators, announced tonight that they would start at 10 a.m. on their South American flight, the tenth of the airplane, a Breguet biplane, with a Hispano-Suiza motor, with which they had hoped to make the Paris to New York crossing, have been filled.

The aviators hope to make the flight in four jumps—St. Louis (Senegal), Natal, Rio Janeiro, and Buenos Aires. Their plane, Nungesser-Coll, has been well tested by many flights.

Distance Flights Practicable, He Says Following Glasgow-Batavia Trip.

NOT ALLOWED TO FLY

Fliers Barely Cleared Herd of Charging Elephants in Burma Take-Off.

New York, Oct. 9 (A.P.)—Declaring himself convinced that long-distance flying is practicable, even in the present stage of aircraft development, Van Lear Black, chairman of the board of directors of the Baltimore Sun, returned today from Europe, where in June he flew from Glasgow, Scotland, to Batavia, Java, and thence back to Amsterdam, Holland, in 27 flying days.

Mr. Black, returning on the Anchor liner Transylvania, was met at the pier by Commander Richard Byrd, U.S. N. and delegates from the Aero-nautic Chamber of Commerce of the United States. Accompanying Black were the two Dutch pilots who were with him on his flight to India, O. L. Geerdendorp, chief pilot, and J. B.

The publisher said he would not use his own flight in advocating the expansion of commercial aviation in this country, but would do what he could to promote interest in the development of aviation as an individual or as a propaganda.

Went Abroad in March.

He went to Europe last March and did much flying in his Fokker plane until mid-June, when he decided, against expert advice, to make the India flight. A new motor was installed, and a set of June 15. He was the first American to make the Pan-Europe cruise and was awarded the Order of Nassau and Orange by Queen Wilhelmina for his feat.

Stops were made at Constantinople, Aleppo and Bagdad. The Persian Gulf, where he stopped, and his flight to Allahabad, Calcutta, Rangoon, Singapore and Batavia, in swift succession, the flight requiring 86 flying hours and ending June 30.

Besides encountering monsoons and sandstorms, the publisher said, in taking off from Burma, barely cleared a herd of elephants which charged out of the jungle. The undercarriage skinned some eight feet over the animals broad backs, Black said.

Handicaps in Turkey.

Handicaps were met in Turkey, the publisher said, where a special permit was required before the plane could land here because the Turks do not permit flying on Sunday. Black asserted, adding that aviators still are regarded as more or less supernatural creatures in the Orient. Sandstorms caused an additional delay of two days at Bagdad. Commenting on his flight, which set a record for distance, Black said he had said: "Never at any time, even in forced landings, were we in danger."

"I wore an ordinary lounge suit when flying and carried my allotment of about 80 pounds of clothing and equipment, which included the plane and two comfortable chairs in which two of us could sleep while the third was at the stick. We did not attempt to cook in the plane, but took with us hot drinks in vacuum bottles."

BOY, PARALYZED, KEPT LIVING BY FRIENDS

Pulmotor Arrives Too Late; Other Lads Use Artificial Respiration.

Palacios, Tex., Oct. 9 (A.P.)—The spark life in Carl Berry, 16-year-old football player of Palacios, whose lungs were paralyzed Saturday morning, was flickering low tonight.

Berry lived only about 30 hours by the efforts of his friends and his teammates, who administered artificial respiration. Berry laughed and joked today during his conscious spells—unaware that doctors have given up hope for him.

One of the four physicians treating him has diagnosed the trouble as infantile paralysis. One asserted that the paralysis of the lungs was traceable to Berry's injury in a practice football game Saturday a week ago.

The boy's friends are working in shifts of 12 hours each day.

Berry's lungs began to fail him about 10 a.m. Saturday, and in a short time it was necessary to apply artificial respiration. A pulmotor was sent from Houston by airplane to the youth's aid. The plane was forced down about half way and the young lad was taken to an automobile.

The pulmotor arrived about 10 o'clock last night, but Berry's lungs were too far paralyzed, and the apparatus failed to give the expected relief.

General Rules of Contest

This contest is open to residents of the District of Columbia and the States of Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia. No one directly or indirectly connected with The Washington Post or members of their families will be allowed to participate in this contest.

Contestants may submit as many different solutions as they like, but payment of one of the amounts designated in the list of awards shall accompany each solution, but contestants will be permitted to win more than one award. Once registered a solution can not be changed.

The Washington Post offers these awards for individual solutions. While it is not for members of one household to work together, or several friends, it is not permissible for one person to submit two or more solutions and send a solution of the puzzle. When in the judgment of the Contest Manager more than one member of the same family, or more than one member of a group of persons who have worked together, send in a solution of the puzzle, the right is reserved to refuse the amount of money paid for subscriptions and return the solutions he believes have been submitted contrary to the rules.

The Washington Post reserves the right to reject any solution which it believes has not been submitted under proper conditions. The Washington Post reserves the right to finally decide any other questions or points which may arise and those entering the contest will be bound by its decision.

In case of ties, as many awards will be reserved as there are people tied, but no awards will be awarded for a less correct solution; that is, if three or more people should receive any award, two will be reserved for them, and the third will be the second best, and so on of their solutions of the second puzzle. That is, the best solution will be awarded the first prize, the second best the second, and the third best the third award, &c.

Important Facts to Remember

While the amount you pay with a solution of the puzzle does not have any effect on your winning an award, it does affect the amount you will receive should you win, as the value of the awards is determined by what the winners spend in subscription money. This is explained in the awards list, which you should study carefully before sending in your solution.

The time a solution is received has no bearing upon its winning an award. Accuracy is what counts.

Not more than one award will be awarded to any one person.

Weigh the Twins Tonight

CONTEST MANAGER
The Washington Post

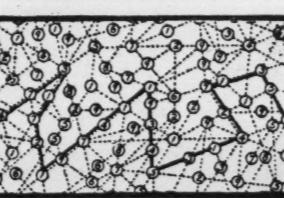

THE PROBLEM

The sum total of the figures on each of four charts is always the same, but are all different, with the exception of two of the elephants. These two elephants weigh identically the same as each other. Find them and them by adding up the figures on each of the elephants and the two with the same sum total are the twins.

The figures are to be found in the circles in the charts. Leftover corners of the elephants are simply to identify them. These figures have nothing to do with the elephant weights. In submitting your solution, you must identify the twins by their numbers and give the correct weight of each. Solutions to be proposed classified to weight, then to the correctness of each twin as well as to correctly identify them by their numbers. This is a game of skill and not a guessing contest.

There are no "ones" or "cyphers" in the elephants. There are no groups of figures—that is, the figure 9 is the highest figure, and one is the lowest, 23a, 23b, 23c, 23d, or like groups. If you find a "22" and a "3" are written so closely together that it looks like a "23," then add the two together to come to be added just as you would if they were an inch apart. There are no figures in the pictures except in the heads of the elephants. The tails of the sixes are distinctly curved, and the bottoms of the nines are straight or nearly so. There is a trick or a catch in the charts.

DECIDING TIES—IF ANY

In case of ties those tied for any award will be presented with a second puzzle, which will consist of drawing a line across the face of a circle, so as to divide it into two equal parts, one larger, so that the figures thus connected when added together will total the same as the others. The line is to be used five times, after which should any remain, each contestant will receive full value of the award.

In case there are no ties on counting elephants, no other puzzle, of course, will be presented.

Smith Would Lose Texas, Says Creager

San Antonio, Tex., Oct. 9 (A.P.)—Hughes, Hoover, Lowden or Davies can carry Texas in 1928 if Al Smith is nominated as the Democratic presidential candidate, A. B. Creager, Republican national chairman for Texas, predicted here today.

Creager said that religion should have no place in a presidential race, but that religious persuasions rule men, nevertheless. In addition to the fact that Texas is strongly Protestant, he said, the State is a dry stronghold and would be likely to vote against a wet.

FILIPINO CITIZENSHIP CASE ADVANCES STEP

Court of Appeals to Hear Arguments in Javier Litigation Today.

The legal controversy involving the right of civilian Filipinos to become American citizens will advance a step forward today on its way to the United States Supreme Court. The Court of Appeals will hear arguments against the questions of law involved.

The Department of Labor lost the test case in the District Supreme Court. The latter tribunal overruled a plea by the department that the certificate of naturalization awarded Ambrose Javis, a Philippino cook, be canceled on the ground that it was erroneously issued.

Javis' case has nothing to do with the cases of Filipinos who have served in the naval and military forces, as those persons are taken care of by special legislation.

The department contended Congress never intended to retain the Philippine Islands permanently and if the civilian residents of the islands were granted American citizenship the specter of dual citizenship might arise from time to time. Government of the United States and the Islands.

A civilian Filipino is neither a citizen and, in a sense, has no political status because he does not owe permanent allegiance to the United States, it is contended.

COOLIDGE WARNING PREDICTS FAILURE OF PET PROJECTS

Intends to Hold Purse-Strings Tightly, Despite Congressional Plans.

NATION'S MAJOR NEEDS EXEMPTED FROM BAN

1,500 Commerce Chamber Units to Vote on $400,000,-000 Tax-Cut Reduction.

(Associated Press)

The recent warning from the White House that President Coolidge intends to hold the purse strings of the Government tightly this winter promises to spell failure to the many local projects brought forward each session by members of Congress, unless it can be shown that their need is imperative.

From such disclosures as have been made on behalf of Mr. Coolidge, it appears that only the most urgent local and national projects calling upon funds from the Treasury will gain executive approval in order that the largest possible amount of money may be available for reduction of the national debt and a possible reduction of taxation.

The major needs of the country, such as that incurred by the Mississippi flood and related projects, will have a place in the President's budget program, but experiments and proposals in general which need Government funds will be scrutinized with the greatest care before White House approval is given.

With an estimated surplus in the Treasury for next year short of what it has been in recent years and the administration's desire to reduce the national debt, the necessity of watching expenses closely so that in addition to a tax cut there may be a reduction in the national income tax and in the corporation tax, Mr. Coolidge is faced with the problem of making a reduction in the personal income tax and in the corporation tax.

Wants to Lower Debt.

The President feels if members of Congress cooperate with him to the extent of watching expenditures carefully, the nation will benefit.

To members of Congress who are asking his support of a sectional project necessitating an outlay of money, the President pointed out that the greatest boon to the people would be a wiping out of the national debt, adding that if this were accomplished the interest now paid on the debt would satisfy nearly every reasonable request for improvements for the improvement that is made in any one year.

A $400,000 tax reduction program is being submitted by the United States Chamber of Commerce to its 1,500 member organizations for a referendum vote to determine its policy during congressional consideration of revenue legislation.

Would Reduce Taxes.

The program, as worked out by a special committee, calls for reduction of Federal estate and war excise taxes. The recommendations submitted in the referendum are:

"That there be immediate reduction and effect in Federal taxes which, if made effective, will amount to $400,000 in the first full year after the changes are made."

"That the rate of corporate income tax applicable to net income of 1927 should not exceed 10 per cent."

"That there be a full opportunity for the joint congressional committee to perfect proposals for revision of Federal laws and their administration."

A supplemental report dealing with technical and detailed proposals looking toward revision of the Federal taxation system and its adjustment to peace-time conditions is being considered by the committee. The total reduction proposed in the referendum it explains, would amount to not more than $200,000,000 as far as the current fiscal year is concerned.

Gillett to Urge Bill For Metric System

(Associated Press)

Senator Gillett, Republican, of Massachusetts, will reintroduce his bill to support the present system of weights and measures with the metric standard at the coming Congress, he said yesterday; a similar measure will be sponsored in the House by Representative Britton, Republican of Illinois.

In the course of his tour, according to a War Department announcement yesterday, he will visit the naval and army stations at Anacostia and Bolling Field, the Wright Corporation, Paterson, N. J., Curtis Airplane and Motor Co., Mitchell Field, L. I., Naval air station at Hampton Roads, Langley Field, the Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio, Ford Airport and Airship Development Co., Detroit; Seaford Field, Mich., and the Glenn Martin Aircraft Corporation, Cleveland. Part of his tour will be made by plane.

Sir Philip is a member of parliament and one of the younger political leaders of Britain. In addition to his political activities he is a philanthropist, holds a high position in the financial world and is an enthusiastic flier. The War Department has placed at his disposal such planes as he may desire to use during his visit.

Roman Candles in Use Against Hungry Bears

Livingston, Mont., Oct. 9 (A.P.)—Fire extinguishers loaded with ammonia and shotguns loaded with rock salt are being held in readiness to beat off hungry Yellowstone Park bears who seem intent on filling up before they go into hibernation, advice from the park says.

Road crews declare the bears are constantly invading their store houses for food and have even stolen oats from the horses. A bear which strayed into the town of West Yellowstone last night almost caused a "nightshirt parade" in the village when he startled citizens by tumbling over garbage cans. He made his escape to the park before daylight.

Superintendent H. H. Albright says the artillery will be used on the bears only in case of an invasion that roman candles prove inadequate to stem. They only want food, he says, and do not harm men or animals. A band of seven grizzlies bedded down in the same corral with the horses after stealing their oats.

MEXICO'S REVOLUTION.

The demonstrated falsity of official reports from the Mexican government indicates that the current disorders, mutinies and executions are forerunners of a national revolution. President Calles announced a few days ago that Gen. Gomez would be captured within 24 hours; but Gomez at last accounts was outmaneuvering the Calles forces. Affairs in Jalisco, Durango, Morelos, Michoacan, Oaxaca, Chiapas and other states, the revolt of additional officers and troops, the activity of numerous rebel and bandit bands, the reappearance in the field at the head of 800 men of Gen. Udro Medina, reported killed last Thursday in battle, the announcement that the government already has had to expend some $5,000,000 in its efforts to crush the revolt, and the return of the Yaquis to the warpath, do not lend credibility to the statements from the capital that the revolution has been suppressed.

Another sinister feature of the situation is the confiscation of property belonging to all persons charged with complicity in plots against the Calles regime. The Mexican newspapers have learned that the attorney general has issued official orders for the confiscation of the property of Gens. Gomez and Almada, and that other orders for confiscation of property are being prepared. Any person in Mexico is liable to become the victim of such a charge. Already millions of dollars have been confiscated, and no citizen's home or life is safe. This invasion of private rights by the Calles government is proof that all law has disappeared. Beginning with an attempt to intimidate political opponents of Gen. Obregon, Calles is now robbing and executing civilians on trumped-up charges. The Mexican constitution forbids the execution of any civilian by military authority. But all pretense of complying with the constitution was abandoned before the outbreaks began, and outrageous violations of law by the Calles government were to have been expected.

BUS TRANSPORT.

A national survey of local transportation undertaken by the American Electric Railway Association discloses the fact that 8,332 buses are being used by street railway companies and that, in general, they are not earning a fair return on the investment. As a result an upward tendency in bus fares is noted, and further extension of their use seems unlikely. The report adds that 8 cents is the minimum rate of fare at which buses in city service can be operated profitably.

The average street car fare in 303 cities of over 25,000 population, according to the association, is 7.75 cents, which represents an increase of 2.68 cents since the opening of the World War. In the interval it is claimed that labor and material costs have more than doubled.

The street railway companies, in general, have been fair and unbiased in their attempts to make use of the motor bus. When buses first appeared on the transportation horizon there was a definite attempt to ignore or fight them. Before long, however, railway executives realized that buses could provide mass transportation in certain cases to good advantage. Then began serious experiments to fit them into the existing scheme, both to supplant rail service and to supplement it. Here and there the bus has proved the better medium of the two. As a general thing, however, operators of street railway systems have found that to move large numbers of people quickly, the trolley car is superior to the bus. If it is true that buses can not be operated at a profit for less than an 8-cent fare, whereas trolley cars can survive on an average fare of 7.75 cents, economic law will tend to fix their respective fields of operation. There is a place in the national transportation scheme for both buses and trolleys.

CALENDAR REVISION.

When it was first suggested that the United States Chamber of Commerce give consideration to the proposition to endorse the movement to revise the calendar, so as to provide for the division of the year into thirteen months of four weeks each, little attention was paid to the matter. But those who are behind the movement in this country, foremost among whom is George Eastman, of the Eastman Kodak Co., are spreading propaganda in support of the movement in all directions.

That the proposal is receiving strong support that may influence the action of the chamber when it assembles at French Lick Springs on the 18th instant, is evident from the cordial letters of approval that have reached the proponents from all sections of the country. These letters of endorsement come from business and professional men, manufacturers, railroad presidents, university presidents, editors and writers, lawyers and insurance officials.

T. V. O'Connor, chairman of the United States Shipping Board, is one of the most earnest endorsers of the movement; and that labor is equally interested is evidenced by the support of President Sheppard, of the Order of Railway Conductors of America. Haley Fiske, president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., says that the plan "would have special advantages to the insurance companies."

Moses B. Cotsworth, world-famous authority on calendars, who has recently returned from Geneva, reports that the countries belonging to the League of Nations very generally approve calendar revision, based either upon the plan for a year of 13 months or an "equal quarter calendar of two months with 30 days and one with 31 days in each quarter." Mr. Cotsworth, who with Mr. Eastman, will attend the meeting of the national chamber of commerce, reports that the League of Nations will invite the United States to name a national committee to consider the changes that may be endorsed at the French Lick meeting.

AGE AND YOUTH.

The New York World is as strongly opposed to the Republican tariff policy as its neighbor, the New York Times, can be, but it shrewdly avoids the mistake made by the Times in jumping at the conclusion that the tariff must be revised because of French and other foreign demands. The World points out that the French tariff policy contemplates special concessions to other countries in exchange for equivalent concessions in favor of French exports, while the American tariff law applies to all countries alike, and makes no provision for special concessions. The World contents itself by saying that the two systems are different. It does not espouse the cause of France against the United States.

It is probable, of course, that Dr. Durant does not actually believe in the suggestion he has put forth, if for no other reason than that he himself is 44 years of age. To the average man it appears that he has overlooked one important consideration. Even should one grant that most men are at the height of their curve at 35, which probably of itself is untrue, it does not follow that other important work may not be accomplished while the curve is receding. Would the world be better off without such accomplishment, even though it were not quite up to that which was effected at 35?

When one considers contemporary life and the immediate past, he finds men such as Clemenceau, J. P. Morgan the elder and John D. Rockefeller, all of whom did great work after they had reached 60 years. The four great Japanese generals in the Russo-Japanese War, Oyama, Nodzu, Kuroki and Oku, were all past 60. In the World War, the great commanders on both sides, Hindenburg, Von Bulow, Foch, Haig and Pershing, were 60 or over. Justice Holmes, of the Supreme Court, is 86. The late Judge Gary was active until he was past 80. Thomas A. Edison is 80. Dr. Adolph Lorenz is 73. John Hays Hammond is 72. Henry Ford is 64. Could the world have spared the accomplishment of these men in the years after their thirty-fifth birthdays? Calvin Coolidge was unheard of when he was 35. No one can be President until he has reached the age of 35.

The theory that there is no place in the industrial scheme for men past the so-called prime of life is rapidly losing ground. There is every reason that it should. While it can not be denied that the enthusiasm of the younger man is a valuable asset, it is equally true that with age comes experience, and experience is indispensable. The world needs its older men, if only for the purpose of repressing the un-governed enthusiasm of the younger, and tempering them so that they will be productive rather than destructive.

A SWAP WITH CANADA?

Sir Hugh Denison, Australian Commissioner to the United States, has made a suggestion regarding the Alaskan-Canadian boundary line that may prove an interesting source of discussion before the International Boundary Commission.

Up at the tip of the Lynn Canal is a small town, which because of its peculiar name, is still found on the maps of Alaska, although there is little left of Skagway except the memories that still hang like a mist over the first "trek" up through the Chilkoot Pass. Sir Hugh recently visited Alaska, and found that while Skagway is of no interest at all to the United States, it might be made a port of great value in the commerce of Canada's Northwest territory. In a speech delivered before the Canadian Club in Vancouver recently he told of his visit and what he found: "Skagway, which is the natural port of entry for northern Canada," is practically a deserted village, with its port improvements falling to pieces and its houses empty. As it is practically surrounded by Canadian territory, the United States Government apparently is not inclined to spend money on its improvement or upkeep, and while it belongs to another country no Canadian company cares to spend anything; consequently it languishes.

The Australian statesman would like to see the town either internationalized, like Flume, with a strip of territory up to White Pass, or as an alternative he suggests that an effort be made by the Canadian government to obtain a long lease of the strip so that Canadians may legally desire in the way of "equal rights."

a deadly blow at the integrity of the Government. It is impossible to foresee all the evil consequences that might flow from such a breach of the Constitution.

If there is not now in the Senate a sufficient number of constitutional lawyers to prevent this threatened violation of the fundamental law, the Senate is indeed at the lowest stage in its history. It is to the credit of Senator King, a Democrat, that he disregards partisan considerations and looks upon this question in the light of constitutional law. His party colleagues who are still in doubt may follow his reasoning to great advantage.

THE TARIFF AND PROSPERITY.

The New York World is as strongly opposed to the Republican tariff policy as its neighbor, the New York Times, can be, but it shrewdly avoids the mistake made by the Times in jumping at the conclusion that the tariff must be revised because of French and other foreign demands. THE RIGHTS OF A STATE.

Senator King, of Utah, furnishes substantial food for thought to his Democratic colleagues when he holds that refusal to seat duly elected senators would be a dangerous precedent that might act as a boomerang against other senators. He has concluded that the Senate can not afford to set aside the act of a State in choosing its own senators.

In the Vare case, if the Senate should deny him his seat, the question of filling the vacancy would arise. Pennsylvania would not be content with one senator. The governor would fill the vacancy. In that case, what would become of Mr. Wilson, who is contesting the election of Mr. Vare? The Senate has begun its consideration of the contest. Mr. Wilson has a right to obtain the verdict of the Senate on the question whether he was or was not elected a senator. Apparently he was not elected, but the facts in the case can be determined only by the Senate. If he was the choice of Pennsylvania, the exclusion of Mr. Vare and the subsequent filling of the vacancy by the governor would result in gross wrong to three men—to Mr. Vare, who is entitled to his seat until and unless the Senate finds that Mr. Wilson was elected; to Mr. Wilson, who will have been deprived of his seat, and to the governor's appointee, who will have been subjected to public humiliation.

Long ago the Senate adopted the only course that may be justly followed in dealing with such matters. It accepted the credentials signed by the State authorities and seated the bearer of the credentials; and then, if the seat was contested, it decided the controversy on its merits. No State was deprived of its equal representation in the Senate. A departure from this procedure, by excluding a citizen who appears with proper credentials, is a denial of the rights of a State, in violation of the Constitution. No sophistry can disguise the fact that the Senate, when it refuses to seat a citizen bearing proper credentials, is striking

The Homemaker

By NANCY CAREY

HERE, G. H. Hill, is the salad dressing of which you write. Thank you for your kind words concerning our department and our recipes and we do trust you enjoy great success with them.

Cottage Dressing for Colslaw.

1/4 cupful vinegar

1/2 cupful salt (to taste).

1 teaspoonful dry mustard.

1 1/2 teaspoonfuls sugar.

Sprinkling cayenne pepper.

2 tablespoonfuls flour.

1 egg white.

1/2 cupful milk.

1/2 tablespoonfuls melted butter.

Mix the dry ingredients together well, add the egg slightly beaten and then the melted butter, the milk and the vinegar (the last very slowly). Cook in a double boiler, stirring the while, until the mixture has been beaten into a chin bowl, cool and chill. Serve with slaw or other salads, preferably those requiring a not greasy dressing.

We probably have on hand cold capon, or possibly chicken in its place. Here is a recipe which will dispose of that which remains of it, and we shall have also a menu to accompany our recipe.

Capon or Chicken "Mince"

With Mushrooms

Cut all remaining chicken or capon in small pieces and mix the bones with pieces of skin and gristle. Place the meat in a small frying pan with a slice of minced pimento, a can of mushrooms, sliced, and sufficient stock (left from boiling the fowl on Saturday or Sunday) to cover. If no stock is available, water may be substituted, or better still a chicken bouillon which is employed to produce stock. Simmer the meat in the stock slowly for a half hour. A small onion, thinly sliced, may be added to the meat when it has taken place and the meat is ready to serve and then serve the mince on slices of toast from which the crusts have been removed. The flour may be sprinkled over the materials and just stirred in, or the pan tipped to the side so that flour sprinkled on the dry pan and browned a bit and then worked in by gradually tipping the pan back and allowing the moisture to mix with the flour. This takes a steady hand, but the browning of the flour compensates for the effort of holding the pan up for the few moments required.

Menu

Capon Mince with Mushrooms
Corn Souffle
Tomato Aspic Salad
Tea Muffins
Gingerbread with Whipped Cream
Tea or Coffee
Corn Souffle.

1 can corn.
2 tablespoonfuls butter.
2 tablespoonfuls flour.
1 cupful sweet milk.
1 teaspoonful salt.
2 eggs.

Pepper to taste.

Melt the butter and work in the flour to the milk slowly and bring the whole to the boil. Add the corn and salt and pepper and the yolks of the eggs well beaten. Lastly add the stiffly beaten whites by cutting them into the mixture. Bake in a buttered baking dish for 30 minutes in moderate oven.

YOUR BOY AND YOUR GIRL

By ARTHUR DEAN, SC. D.

The Parent Counsellor

Dr. Dean will answer all signed letters pertaining to parents' problems with their boys and girls. Writers' names are never printed. Our questions unanswered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Address Arthur Dean, in care of this paper.

FOREIGNERS.

Now you mind what I tell you. You keep away from those foreigners. I don't want you to associate with them, either in school or out of school. There are plenty of people of your own kind."

I wonder if a Massachusetts Indian child was the first one to make such a remark when he called down upon his teacher.

Does not prejudicing a child in his impressionable years work one of two ways: Either to give that child a decided stand against foreigners or else to remain silent when he calls down upon his parents. What does a child think when he sees that a particular "foreign" child, with whom he is forbidden to associate, is one who stands high in his studies, has excellent manners and otherwise merits social consideration?

It is possible that a "foreigner" says to his child: "Keep away from those 100 per cent American children with their rude ways and their habit of letting the studies slide. You are going to get ahead if you follow their example."

It is a poor rule that does not work both ways.

I will quote from a letter of a high school student. "I have some Serbian friends who go to the same school and they are the best and most popular students in the school. But my parents strongly object to my having anything to say to the Serbian boys."

One of the greatest scientists and the author of what is undoubtedly a superb biography, is Prof. Michael Pupin, of Columbia University. His story of how he, as a young immigrant, rose to a position of fame, wealth, popularity and social recognition, has been one of the best sellers.

His life story is not at all unlike thousands of others which may be told of other "foreigners" who have made names for themselves.

As an immigrant boy, Pupin would have been ignored by the parents of this girl. But as Prof. Pupin, the man of wealth, fame and social attributes, the world would hest the R. S. V. P. if they had an engraved card.

Discuss these questions, my young friend, with your mother.

Has the best music been written by "foreigners"? Are the majority of apreciators of good music "foreigners"? Are books involving the deepest thought of sociology, economics, psychology and

BEAUTY AND YOU

By VIOLA PARIS:

LARGE PORES AND OTHER QUESTIONS.

Dear Viola Paris: I have enlarged pores on my nose. What can I do for this condition?

ANGALYN.

Answer: This is a query that is often put to me. Sometimes it is a case of naturally coarse-grained skin, but almost always can be improved.

Answer—Ask the superintendent of schools whether he has a part-time system. If so your boy can work in the garage for part time and go to school part time. This will be killing two birds with one stone—the first bird being a nose with many pores, the second being, satisfying the need for education which too late he will realize he had missed.

TWO BIRDS—ONE STONE.

Now that my boy's vacation is over he won't go back to school, having had a glorious time working in a garage learning the business of the oil business?

ANSWER.

If people ask a newly married couple to dine, or entertain them in any way, it is generally considered polite to return the hospitality.

The ring is the token of a pledge. A wedding ring is only suggested.

An engagement ring is only suggested by custom. You would not refuse to marry a man because he couldn't give you an engagement ring, or because he was not engaged.

Will it be necessary to entertain each one who gives a dinner or other affair in our honor? If it will be, it would not be possible to have all at one dinner, as they are of different walks of life and all would not be comfortable. If it is necessary, how long a time should elapse before we gave these affairs? We are a fairly mature couple.

WIVES OF TOMORROW

By FRANCES McDONALD

EAR Miss McDonald—Let me say something to that bitterly disappointed wife who wrote you that she longs for a child but fears she can not support it.

There is no such thing as not being able to support a child. I shall be as book on my life since my marriage of only five years. Before and up to now I was a business girl and singer. Through my singing I met a soldier (a convalescent in a Government hospital) whom I fell in love with. It was "love at first sight" with both of us. His income was a small pension, but he had a good job now, and I have a machine run by hand. My girl enjoys her toys and plays with the dogs and cats, and on hot days she attire in her "bathing suit" (as she calls it) and bathes in a tub of water outside.

We have worked together with help from no one—rather helped others—and we're getting there. We're in our twenties. I may add that I boarded an infant for a young couple living expenses were managed on this pension, but could have nothing for the future. By chance we were offered a place in the country to rent for $20 a month. We moved out there in the ice winter (when ever it got cold) in a fine location and bought a house in the fall and improvements, my baby only 6 months old, but we were happy. We have a future. My ambitious husband fixed up the place again, and he is hard at all things. We bought some ticks and live on them.

He's a good one, too, I bet. Don't worry about supporting the wife. We will find a way. Here's luck to you and your husband.

CONTENDED.

Conduct and Common Sense

TWO BRIDES-TO-BE.

EAR Miss Singleton—I would be obliged if you would give me some information on the following points. I am shortly to be married very quietly. In fact, no one but the families know it. I expect quite a few friends of my husband will attend us informally at some other function.

Ten Records
For Series

By ALAN J. GOULD

(Associated Press Sports Editor) NEW YORK, Oct. 9 (A.P.)—The 1927 world's series has passed quickly into baseball history with ten records broken and another tied, chiefly through the batting prowess of Babe Ruth, the "makings" of a stormy controversy in the Bush-Cuyler-Dreyfuss situation and increased prestige for the victorious New York Yankees.

The speedy ending of the series, equaling the record set by Boston Braves in winning four straight games in 1914, prevented the battle from smashing records for attendance and gate receipts, although the figure for the third game, at the Yankee Stadium, did not hit the $200,000 mark, $206,655 for a single contest, while the players' pool also is the greatest on record.

It was the first time in five years that the series has failed to be a million dollar affair. The total receipts, $7,000,210, were exceeded by the $6,950,000 in excess of the total for the first four games of the 1926 series, which set the high mark for seven games of $1,207,864. Thus, the turnstiles in the battle just closed clicked at a record pace as far as they went.

The rival club owners, as a result of the series brevity, must refund close to $350,000 to ticket-holders who purchased the pastes-borders in Pittsburgh as well as New York in three-game blocks.

Although the American League champions won two of the four games, the first and last, more on Pirate mistakes than on their skill, the series left no question of Yankees supremacy. Taking the series was the expansion team piloted by Miller. Huggins outplayed, outlasted and outsmarted the National League champions. The Pirates unquestionably were in a bad slump all the way through, suffering a reaction from their hard pennant fight, but they were up against a team that had been pulled enough.

The Yankees outbatted their rivals, .707 to .233, and on the averages outflashed them, .881 to .962.

Bush's bat shattered eight of the ten records broken and tied another to clinch for him probably a stronger claim than any other player to the individual hero of the series.

No series is complete without its heroes and there were many difficulties than usual in making the 1927 selection. No player stood out as did Grove; Cleveland Alexander on the pitching hill last year.

Herb Pennock, holding the Pirates helpless for seven innings, and to only three safe blows altogether in the third game, was the pitching hero. "Jumping Joe" Dugan turned in the most

Silence Reigns
In Case of CuylerPirates Greeted by
Few Fans on Trip
From New York.Star Outfielder Feels Certain He Will Be Traded.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 9 (A.P.)—Downcast over their crushing defeat at the hands of the New York Yankees in the world's series, the Pittsburgh Pirates returned home today.

In strong contrast to the tumultuous scenes that followed their dramatic victory over Washington in the deciding game of the 1925 series, the Pirates had few fans to welcome them home this morning. Manager Donie Bush had no comment to make on the four straight defeats his charges had suffered.

The National League champions were to meet tomorrow to fit each man's share of the winning team's portion of the series' players' pool.

Meanwhile Pirate fandom waited vainly for a decision in the case revolving about the benching of "Kiki" Cuyler, star outfielder, during the greater part of the playing season and throughout the entire world's series.

Already the chief topic of discussion among the fans, greater attention was focused on the case today as a result of a statement Cuyler gave to the Associated Press in New York last night.

Detailing his side of the controversy, Cuyler, hero of the 1925 series, said the "whole thing is a mystery to me," and that any explanation would have to come from the players' side.

Cuyler said he had complained because he was being played in left field and batting second when he felt he could be of more value to the team in center field and batting in my other position in the line-up. After he had been fined $50 for failing to slide into second base during a game with the New York Giants, Cuyler said, "I have been fined $50 as a 'link' to him. Days passed into weeks and the end of the season approached and there were no concessions. Bush retorted that Cuyler would not appear in the line-up even though the Yanks participated in the World's Series.

In the World's Series games in Pittsburgh as well as New York Bush was forced to endure the continued cat-calls of the fans. It was a strange turn of affairs. The man who had piloted the Pittsburgh team to a pennant and the captain of city-wide acclaim for his feat, a few days later, in the midst of the world's series games, was subjected to the severest criticism ever heaped upon a manager by the town's populace.

"I would rather not say," was his reply to every question.

There were strong reports, however, that Dreyfuss, Bush and Cuyler would meet at the players' conference tomorrow and that a decision would be reached then. Cuyler: believes he has played his last game in a Pirate uniform.

"Not because I don't want to play in that uniform," he explained, "but because my employers, I understand, have other plans."

But Bush stuck to his guns. Cuyler remained on the bench throughout the series. A star of the first water, a slugger whose slugging was sorely needed, an outfielder ranking with the best and with a deadly arm, Cuyler was fettered by Bush's unyielding disciplinary action which relegated him to the bench.

"I would rather not say," was his reply to every question.

Track Speedy Following Showers

Prince of Wales, 128
Lbs. Up, Faces Stubborn Competition.

20 2-Year-Olds Are Nominated for the Opening Race.

Special to The Washington Post.

AUREL RACE TRACK, Oct. 9.—Well-balanced fields will contest the seven races on today's program. Featuring the third day of racing, the opening race, at 6 p.m., for all ages, with a value of $100.

The high-class sprinters have been named for the Prince of Wales. Tip Top and Prince of Wales Tip Top have assigned top weight of 128 pounds, but will face stubborn competition among the remainder of the field. Orrin, especially appears prime for best marks. The horses beaten out were high more than a neck by Buddy Buddy in a race in which the latter equalled the track record.

Twenty 2-year-olds have been nominated for the Prince of Wales 9 furlongs, and large fields generally punctuate the card. The track doubtless will be thoroughly dried out after the rain of Saturday.

A. Smith, who has one of the big strings in training of numbers at Laurel, spent Sunday looking over the wood mares and yearlings that generally are held at the farm. He has eight wood mares and ten yearlings and this number will be increased about 10 more when he will take up for E. H. (Audrey) Farm Stable. These youngsters will be shipped from Virginia to the Smith farm within the next couple of weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Giblin, whose horses are looked after by R. J. Potts, were arrivals from Toronto. They plan to remain for the balance of the Maryland meetings.

Several horsemen who raced at the Maryland Fair were at Laurel yesterday afternoon. They reported that J. Y. Christmas had won two races, one with Applegate and another with Rocklight. D. Carroll also added two winners in a day. Dap and Dap Maken and F. A. Alford carried off the trophy honors with three winning races to his credit.

Thomas Rodrick will make the trip to the Hite farm in Virginia to look over the horses that he has purchased. There are seven horses in his stable outside of those that were purchased at the Saratoga sales. The good mare Winifred I Do will be retired to stud in May. The other will be bred to Mr. Crump next spring.

Croader was sent a mile yesterday morning in 1:50. Ormond I Do and Nat Evans in 1:49.2. The latter's move was made before the track got heavy.

In preparation for the meet in the Chevy Chase Steeplechase, to be run on Wednesday, the jumper Freden Rock was sent a mile and a furlong in 1:57. Lorenzo a mile and a quarter in 2:11; and Whymper a mile in 1:47. The 3-year-old Dolan went a mile in 1:44.

Jockey D. Emery received a wire from L. T. Cooper instructing him to report to the Island farm stable at Latona.

Dr. Henry J. McCarthy and Ernest Hall will conduct a sale of horses in training in the paddock at Laurel on Wednesday, October 26.

During the first four days of the Laurel meeting, D. Mergel has ridden the horses of the men on the track on different occasions. Here are they: Sir Leonid, $11.10; Tesswell, $12.30; and Immortal, $49.40.

COLLYERS COMMENT ON THE SPEED OF KINGS

"W AME day,"

The big clean-up Monday is scheduled for the opening dash at Newthorpe, which meeting has been continued. The horse to note other than BETTA, which has been given a special "pass" for the maiden affair, according to the good word from the chief of staff, this "baby" is already home. A word to the wise is just as good as a kick in the pants, any old time.

BALL GAME should go well in the second, while Miss Chinquapin has only to race to her best form to earn brackets in the third. The fourth race is tough, but when the smoke of battle clears away the Appalachian-Dussa colors probably will be seen in front.

NUAN FRANKIE M'MARION doubtless will fight it out in the fifth. Heavy commissions will have placed on each racer, showing that it is going to be a contest.

RADIO

The three-set opera "La Traviata" by Georges Verdi will be presented in English from WWD at 8:30 o'clock tonight. It will be directed over the microphone by George Ederer.

The opera was first produced in Venice in 1853; in London, Paris and New York in 1856. Fatti, Mafua, Spadolini, Teatrino, Farar and Galli-Curci have been famous interpreters of the role of Violetta in America. Like most of Verdi's works, this opera contains many passages of beauty. The scenes are laid in and near Paris.

The cast will include these soloists of the National Grand Opera Company: Sollecito, Genia Zelinski, soprano; Flores, Nedine, contralto; Alfredo Gheorghiu, tenor; Germaine Ivanenko, baritone, and Dophol, Jean Rival, bass.

Jeanne Mignot, latest soprano to join "Roxie's Gang," will be featured in the May program to be broadcast direct from the special studio of the May Theater tonight at 7:30 o'clock. Other soloists of the gang will take James Mignot is a graduate of the Paris Conservatory. Born in Belgium, she was sent to France to study for an operatic career. She made her professional debut in Lisbon, Portugal, where she appeared as Marguerite in "Faust." She was brought to America by the French Opera in Montreal and made her first appearance on this side of the Atlantic in "Le Prophet," co-starring with Charles Marshall of the Chicago Opera Company. In addition to operatic activities, Miss Mignot has appeared in most of the leading cities of Europe in concert.

Charles Waterfield Cadman's "From the Land of the Sky Blue Water," played as a trumpet solo, will open the hour program by the Glyndebourne 8:30 o'clock. The musical features of the evening will be a well-known radio favorite, Lewis James, who will sing "That Tumble-down Shack in Athlone" and the aria, "Air de la Fleur," from "Carmen."

At noon there will be an organ recital in the KDK studios, followed by an hour's concert by the Capital City Singers.

"Canada's Wonderland—Jasper Park" will be the subject of Jeanne Carpenter at 4 o'clock, followed by a program of short features until 5 o'clock, when Jeanne's Hofford orchestra will be on the air.

Ted Nevell and his band will be heard from WMAL at 8:15 o'clock to night and at 9 o'clock. Harold S. Harkness and Eleanor Furr, pianist, will also be heard from the station during the evening.

The new 50 k.w. transmitter at Bellmore, L. I., will replace WEAF's present 4,000 watt transmitter located in Manhattan, beginning this morning.

SUCCESSFUL WIFE IS HANDICAP TO HUSBAND, ACTRESS SAYS

stop, look and listen. A man can be happy with you only if he pays the bills because of Nicky's infidelities. But back of those, and back of everything, is the undeniable fact that Fannie Brice has been Sophie Glutz, comedienne, instead of the highest-paid comedienne in the world; she and her Nicky would be living contentedly in an apartment on Washington Heights, unknown to the public, and as happy as the rest of us.

Fannie doesn't resent the question. "I believe it's because he is fundamentally such a gentleman. That, and his voice. I don't mean just the outer polish of a gentleman, but the innate fitness that couldn't do a really rotten thing, like open a letter of mine, say, or lie, or spy, or anything small."

"Now, I'm not absolutely a gentleman. I am inside, but not outside."

"I believe it's because he is fundamentally such a gentleman. That, and his voice. I don't mean just the outer polish of a gentleman, but the innate fitness that couldn't do a really rotten thing, like open a letter of mine, say, or lie, or spy, or anything small."

"Never, stole a penny in his life." "There are other ways of being dishonest except—"

Fannie's eyes stopped me. "Never, stole a penny in his life, that crooked son-of-a-bitch that you had," said she emphatically. "A man can be the victim of circumstances, can't he?"

"And then, remember there was always me. There was a hindrance. Oh, I know. When a man is in a difficult position and would sell his mother to back it, the man would always say, 'Well, if this is so good, why doesn't your wife go into it?' He was always rooted back upon me; he couldn't do without me. Without people missing me into the house."

"A successful wife spoils her husband's career. It's nobody's fault; it just has to be. It has its roots deep in human psychology. Two eyes run and two eyes fight for supremacy, often unconsciously, and one eye blinds the other. I've done the greatest thing in my power for Nick by letting him go."

"You still love each other?" We found ourselves saying it, not as a question, just as a fact.

"Love has Tentacles." "Love," said the intimitable singer of "My Man." "When it's real it's a cancer. Goes all through your system and has tentacles that can't be cut out. You can't get rid of love. Best you can do is drown yourself whenever it gets burlesque."

"Trouble with me was that I grew up—mentally. Not that I'm educated, from it; you'll be surprised! But spiritually. To cope, to do things for things. Why we act as we do, the reason of our acts, the motives and quirks what's life all about?"

"He had told you about this other woman; might you have forgiven?" "Does a woman ever forgive those things—or a man either? You may think you do, but the heart keeps striking in your mind. Men and women can't be completely frank."

"Is there any other man, Fannie?" "Well, I should say not."

"Do you believe a divorced pair could ever be happily remarried to each other?" "Yes—we have the same thing, Fannie, wanting our shoulders and rolling her eyes. We have no backbone—ever today."
